Dear David:

Around Thanksgiving 2008, you put out another call for money offering a deal of thirty shares for every dollar invested for prospective note holders, making a mockery of share deals that you have offered in the past. At the same time you had been telling us that negotiations with EonAG were progressing in a positive manner. We haven't heard anything that would suggest that they have raised their offer highlighted in the Letter of Intent that you made public around 11-10-08, and yet, you have intimated Wind Plus is close to getting a deal done. Furthermore, you said they did not want to close until after the first of January 2009, while Wind Plus was hoping for a closing date around January 10, 2009 on NDR.

Offering shares to note holders as an incentive to invest in Wind Plus was a huge factor in enticing prospective note holders to come on board. All the promises you have made about going public and allowing us note holders to convert to shares in the new company, after the reverse take over, has a hollow ring to it.

Five years has gone by for some note holders, so having shares to trade seems like light years away. It would take a person with more than twenty digits to count all the times that Wind Plus is close to getting deals done that would impact your note holders, in terms of getting their money back and ultimately being able to trade shares.

You have been given much latitude by your loyal group of note holders who have either repeatedly reinvested or brought new interested parties to Wind Plus. You have been extremely reluctant to give an accounting of how many additional shares are owed as an incentive to note holders to bring new note holders to Wind Plus.

We are requesting that Wind Plus open its books and show an accurate accounting of the money you have taken in over the last five years and how that money was spent including salaries and expenses. In addition, we would like to know what your assets and liabilities are including details regarding leases held by Wind Plus.

Time is running short for Wind Plus to pay all of the note holders back fully, including interest, without compromise, restrictions or caveats.

We, as note holders, are demanding that you pay us back in entirety, including interest, by June 1, 2009 or we shall contact the F.B.I. office in Dallas, Texas to begin an inquiry of your business practices.

Respectfully,

Your Note Holders
